ABSTRACT

PT Garuda Maintenance Facility AeroAsia (GMF AeroAsia) Tbk is a subsidiary of a national airline and is the largest aircraft maintenance company in Indonesia. As a Maintenance, Repair and Overhaul (MRO) company, PT GMF AeroAsia Tbk has 10 production units. One of the units, namely line maintenance, is a unit that has the same income as the total units at GMF AeroAsia, but also experiences an increase in operational costs every year. For this reason, the planning division seeks to minimize the operational costs incurred by the line maintenance unit. Various problems in modeling to solve these problems have been identified.

This study aims to design dynamic and effective websites to meet the needs of tourists and rental services. The website will consist of various menus tailored to user needs such as home, tour packages, car rental, promo, about, contact, Criticism & Suggestions, Login Menu, Login Account , and Register Account.

Through the development of this website , users can obtain faster information about the website providing travel id places and more effective information for the trips that have been provided . Users can also view or select tour, car rental schedules, promo, provide suggestions and criticisms, contact admins or service locations, and users can also register new accounts that want to be registered as new accounts.

Keyword : GMF , Travel ID, Development , Website.
