ABSTRACT

Digital technology is a familiar thing today. In this digital era, technology changes very quickly, There are many legal aid offers that have been developed through a websait, which is where the websait is equipped with big data related to law, which can be easily accessed via the internet, and can explain clearly and in detail.

So with this a question arises, Will the advocate profession be replaced by advances in digital technology? In the midst of current technological advances of course many thigs will happen especially to the advocate profession.

This research was made with a cumulative study using the library method and is expected to be able to answer these questions. The author will also explain what the impact on the advocate profession is and how to anticipate the advancement of digital technology.

Keywords: advances in digital technology, advocate profession
