ABSTRACT

This Research discusses the criminal act of corruption of grant funds committed by election organizers within the scope of the General Election Commission (KPU), with a focus on the analysis of decision Number 17/PID.SUS-TPK/2023/PT MNK. The purpose of this study is to examine the modus operandi of corruption, the judge's legal considerations, and the effectiveness of law enforcement against the perpetrators. The method used is normative juridical with a case study approach and analysis of court decisions. The results of the study indicate that corruption occurred through the misuse of KPU grant funds that should have been used to support the implementation of the election. This action was carried out by falsifying financial reports and engineering activities. The first instance and appeal courts sentenced the accused by considering the elements of state losses and the active role of the accused. This study recommends strengthening the audit system, transparency of grant funds, and supervision by internal and external supervisory officers to prevent similar cases from recurring.

Keywords: Corruption, Grant funds, Supervision.
