ABSTRACT

This project addresses problems and provides ideas and suggestions for problems that occur at the Puskesmas Suwawa, because it is known that each Health Center has a medical record for each patient. After conducting research at the Puskesmas Suwawa, they experienced problems in managing medical records because they still used handwriting which might cause medical records to be scattered or possibly lost will be required to maintain handwritten medical records. For this reason, the creation of a web-based medical record information system will greatly assist and facilitate health services in managing or storing patient medical records, it can also make it easier to view the entire medical record history of every patient who has been treated at a Public Health Center. Apart from that the Puskesmas Suwawa does not yet have access to information that is given to local people online, therefore through this system it provides information for the community regarding services and the time needed by the community to seek treatment at the Puskesmas Suwawa.
