ABSTRACT

This paper summarizes published studies on the impact of website information services, website security and website platform services on the employment of Zhengzhou graduates during the epidemic period, aiming to establish the relationship between variables such as website information services, website security and website platform services and Zhengzhou graduates. The study collected data from 212 respondents through an online survey and analyzed it using SPSS. The results show that the website platform service, website security and website information service have an impact on the employment of graduates in Zhengzhou. The results of this study are expected to be verified with previous studies, trying to test the degree of fitting between the SPSS data analysis results and the results of previous studies.

Key words: Epidemic; Online recruitment; Employment of graduates; Impact; Countermeasures

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to the Principal University, my parents, my lecturers and friends. I am very happy to study at President University, and I would like to thank President University for giving me the opportunity to obtain a bachelor's degree. I could not have completed my dissertation without the help of family, friends and mentors. This thesis was completed under the kind care and careful guidance of Ms. Erny Estiurlina Hutabarat. Her serious scientific attitude, rigorous academic spirit, and excellent work style deeply infected and inspired me.

I want to thank my family. In the process of writing my thesis, he gave me meticulous care and spiritual strength. I would also like to thank my kitten, who stayed with me every night while I was working on my thesis. The healing power of the critters was also somewhat of a relief to me.

Finally, I would like to thank all the school staff who helped me and all the teachers who participated in my dissertation defense and mam Fransiska Wiratikusuma who read my thesis very carefully and suggested revisions.

Thanks to my two defense examiners, Sir Liswandi and mam Fildan, and to my two teachers for their valuable comments on my thesis. I wish all the teacher's success in their work and good health.
