ARTIFICIAL-INTELLEGEENCE BASED ANTIPLAGIARISM TEST RESULT

ABSTRACT

This study aims to examine the level of women representation in the Indonesian House of Representatives until the 2019 general elections through the application of gender quotas. Therefore, the research will analyze the role of CEDAW on the implementation of gender quota in Indonesia. This research uses a qualitative method by collecting data from secondary sources that refer to previous research studies and government reports.

The results of this study indicate that article 4 of CEDAW regarding the concept of affirmative action has become a reference for the government to increase women's representation where the concept of affirmative action is implemented in the form of a 30% quota. In addition, in the impact of gender application in the 2019 elections shows that there is an increase in the number of women which is 118 or 20% up 3% from the previous election. The final results of this study conclude that CEDAW plays an important role for the government to formulate the concept of affirmative action which is then applied with the gender quota system. Looking for the impact of gender quotas until the 2019 general elections, gender quotas can increase the number of women in the DPR RI with an increase in the number of women 118 or 20% in the DPR RI.

ABSTRAK

Penelitian ini bertujuan untuk menganalisis tingkat representasi wanita di dewan perwakilan rakyat Indonesia sampai pemilu 2019 melalui pengaplikasian kuota gender. Oleh karena itu penelitian akan mengkaji bagaimana peran dari CEDAW terhadap pengimplementasian kuota gender di Indonesia. Penelitian ini menggunakan metode kualitatif dengan mengumpulkan data dari sumber sekunder yang mengacu dengan penelitian penelitian sebelumnya dan laporan pemerintah.

Hasil dari penelitian ini menunjukkan bahwa pasal 4 CEDAW mengenai konsep tindakan afirmatif (affirmative action) telah menjadi acuan pemerintah untuk meningkatkan representasi wanita dimana konsep tindakan afirmatif ini kemudian implementasikan dengan bentuk kuota 30%, kemudian hasil dari implementasi gender sampai pemilu 2019 memperlihatkan bahwa adanya peningkatan jumlah wanita yaitu sebesar 118 atau 20% meningkat 3% dari pemilu 2014. Hasil akhir dari penelitian ini menyimpulkan bahwa CEDAW berperan penting bagi pemerintah untuk merumuskan konsep tindakan afirmatif yang kemudian di aplikasikan dengan sistem gender quota, selanjutnya dalam melihat hasil dari kuota gender sampai pemilu 2019, kuota gender dapat meningkatkan jumlah wanita di DPR RI dengan kenaikan jumlah perempuan 118 atau 20% peningkatan jumlah perempuan di DPR RI.
